This interesting specimen of what a nember of Congress may become, through evil associations, has lately returned from Washington, and is threatening fire and sword to the people of Circleville should they continue to support the Fremont and Dayton ticket. By the way, we heard a good joke connected with this modest and unpretending individual a few days since, which may be worth repeating ;

Some years ago, before the Doctor was as extensively engaged in banking and in conducting financial operations as at present and times past, he was returning over the mountains in a stage coach filled with western members of Congress .their laugh, and conversation began to flag. One old gentleman sat quietly ensconced in the corner taking a snooze, when the Doctor, slapping him upon the I don't sing, gruffly replied the unsocial passenger. Well, theu, old fellow, said the Doctor, spin us a yarn, or tell us what you were dreaming about. Oh, very well, said the gentleman, I can the da readily give you a description of my ted? dream, for it has left a vivid impression upon my memory. I thought, said he, that as we were coming down the mountain, the horses ran away, and as they came to the brink of a precipice, horses, stage coach, driver, and all, were precipitated over it, and down, down, down, we went, a thousand feet, to the bottom. Of course we were all killed. The first thing I recolleut was finding myself and all my compunions in the presence of his Saturio Majosty. He was surrounded by his imps, in the midst of flames and sulphur. One of the imps acted as usher, and taking hold of that gentleman, (pointing to one on the front seat, ) he presented in great state: Who are you and where did you come faom? inquired his clovenfooted highness, in tones of thunder !-Oh, said the poor trembling mortal, my name is -; and I am a member of Congress from Indians. O, ho, said old Nick, member of Congress from Indiana, hey? I don't know that I have any use ter another of all my companions were presented, gave their names, their professions and business, and were silset aside, faom? Oh, said the terror-stricken individual, please, sir, my name is Ductor Olds, and I am a member of Congress from Olrio. What I said the Davil, Doc--the same, at your service. Hurra bore, boys, jump around I shouted his Satanin Majesty, with great excitement-jump around boys, unserew my tail-quick! and screw it outo the Doctor-there's no further use for me here-he's Captain sore! And as he vanished in the smoke, the noise made by the infernal crew in congratulating their new captain, awak-ened me, and I was glad to find it nothing but a dream.

The laugh raised in the coach at the expense of the Doctor, was heard a mile off, and ever since then he has never been known to ask a fellow passenger to relate bia dream .- O. S. Journal.

EDITORIAL.

TIFFIN, OHIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST, 1, 1856.

AT On Saturday avaning Ramser, of Konton, attempted by a mass of most unblushing falselegods, to administer consulation to the slave democracy of this place. As usual, he undertook to b.ah the people into subjection by asserting that the locofosc party south would dissolve the Union if Fremont was elected. On the Kansas difficulties he was peculiarly mendacious. For instance, he any person objected to, when the lying mountebank knows the whole Missouri statute book, with all its monstrous and oppressive laws, (abridging liberty of the press, of speech, and making these slave faws irrepealable, ) was enacted in a single act, and made binding. He said the raws of Kausas and the legislature by which they were passed wan made legal by Reeder, when he knows that from the beginning the ruffians ignored Reeder's authority, admitted "legislators" that he had refused certificates, and drove others off to whom certificallys were given. It is not worth while to allude to the remainder of the glaring falsehoods of which his "speech" was constituted. He admitted and argued the following they ?!! propositions:

1st. That the Kansas legislature is s legal and authoritative body, capable of enacting laws binding upon the people. 2nd. That resistance to the laws of the Ruffian Legislature is Tavason!

3d. That the only method of redress is to go before Judge Lecompte and have kim decide the legitimacy of the laws. 4th That the Free State men were responsible for the disturbances in Kansas, and not the ruffians, -but admitted that Abaruffians had gone a little too far in their retaliation upon the Free State party.
